

(1) The white x marks the approximate position of the punch hole for connecting the rubber band between the upper and lower handle bars, but should be adjusted to the length of your rubber band in its relaxed state.

(2) The two black handle bars can benefit from thicker material or simply double layers of cardstock paper glued together.

(3) This is one piece. Do not separate the log or legs from the upper handle bar.